

The People's Press.

Address of the State Committee.
DEMOCRATIC STATE EX. COMMITTEE,
RALEIGH, N. C., July 16th, 1884.

SALEM, N. C.
THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1884.

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at Salem N. C.

THE PEOPLE'S PRESS
FOR 1884.
$1.50 A YEAR.

The Press entered its thirty-second volume on January 1st, 1884.

Now is the time to subscribe. It will be our endeavor to make our Press more interesting and entertaining than ever.

L. V. & E. T. BLUM,
Salem, N. C., Jan. 3, 1884.

"Uncle Dick" on Education next week.

The New York Times, one of the leading Republican papers of the country, will support Cleveland and Hendricks.

On the 13th inst., a Cleveland and Scales Club was formed at Jerico, Davie County.

A Cleveland and Scales Club was formed at Kernesville, this county.

Stuart W. Cramer, of Thomasville, has received an appointment as cadet in the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

The Lexington Dispatch says that J. E. Kimel is a probable candidate for the Legislature from Davidson county.

Prof. E. A. DeSchweinitz, has been requested to take charge of the mineral display from this county at the State Exposition.

Mr. P. F. Doub makes his bow to the public in the last Leader as associate editor, in a brief and graceful salutary. He proposes to enlist for the war, and no uncertain note will be heard from him during the campaign.

It is discovered that in the third assistant Post Master General's office that sheets of condemned postage stamps have been systematically stolen. The head of the stamp bureau is forced to resign.

In Morehead City, the guests at the Atlantic Hotel numbered 603 on Tuesday, says the Raleigh News and Observer.

FRUIT GROWING IN NORTH CAROLINA.—Next week we will publish an article entitled "Does Fruit Growing Pay in North Carolina?" from the pen of N. W. Craft, Nurseryman and fruit grower, at Shore, N. C. Mr. Craft's articles between the lines in the Press last winter attracted much attention, and the one to appear next week is even more practical and useful to the fruit grower in this section. Persons wishing copies of the paper will please notify us as early as possible.

The Republicans of Stokes county will hold a county Convention, August 4th, in Danbury, to elect delegates to the Congressional and Senatorial Conventions.

A lady writes: "I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family for many years, and could not keep house without it. For the relief of the pains consequent upon female weaknesses and irregularities, I consider it without an equal."

—Frank Leslie's Illustrated News paper for July 5th, 1884, has a neatly engraved view of the N. C. State Exposition Buildings, and the portraits of President W. S. Primrose and Secretary H. E. Fries.

The Fruit Fair.

Messrs. E. W. and J. A. Lineback, of this place, will have charge of the Forsyth County exhibit at the Fruit Fair to be held in Goldsboro on the 30th and 31st inst. The people are urged to contribute largely and thus make a fine display at the fair. It will cost them nothing. The articles should be delivered on next Monday or Tuesday. The fruit will be sold for the benefit of exhibitors after the fair is over.

The Democratic Club.

The meeting of the Cleveland and Scales Club on Saturday evening last was largely attended. Addresses were made by J. C. Buxton, Esq., and C. B. Watson, Esq. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The club is increasing in numbers at every meeting. The Leader says: "Just before adjournment, our townsmen, Mr. E. E. Gray, on behalf of the Club, presented to A. J. Shely, telegraph operator at Winston, a handsome gold headed cane as a testimonial of esteem and appreciation of his official relations. Mr. Gray's speech was ornate and full of heart."

—HARPER'S MONTHLY for August greets its numerous readers with a variety of reading matter seldom equalled. Sixty-five fine engravings, prominent among them is the frontispiece. We have no room to enumerate the many excellencies of this charming number, but advise everybody to get the mid summer literary treat.

who heads the Republican ticket, having less than two years ago been elected to Congress in part by Democratic votes, on the claim that he was still a Democrat (though he threw off the mask and stood displayed a staunch Republican as soon as he took his seat,) cannot command the full vote of his party, because many of the faithful say, it was an outrage to prefer so recent a convert to able men who have long fought in their ranks.

With such candidates as the Democratic party presents, and such principles as it has enunciated, we have nothing to fear, if we are true to ourselves. If we properly organize our forces and go to work we shall surely win. After twenty-four years of exclusion from administration of National affairs, all indications point to a triumphant return of Democracy to power on the 4th of March next, and if the people will but remember what Democracy has done for them in this State, we shall elect our whole ticket by a greater majority than ever before. They cannot forget the venality, corruption, fraud, incompetency and opposition, culminating in actual war upon our people, attending Republican rule in the State and from which Democracy promptly relieved them. They cannot forget that by reckless appropriations and the issue of fraudulent bonds, for which the State received nothing in return, the Republicans destroyed her credit and reduced her to bankruptcy, and that the Democrats have annihilated the fraudulent bonds and by a fair compromise with the creditors of the State reduced her honest debt three-fourths and restored her old fair credit in the markets of the world. They cannot forget that Republicans levied heavy taxes upon the people professedly for popular education but misused the money so that no schools were taught, while now, with less burdensome taxation, Democrats are expending over half a million of money annually in teaching the children of both races under a system of public instruction which is admitted to be equal to the best in the land. They cannot forget that notwithstanding the immense appropriations made for railroad purposes all our railroads languished under Republican control. Under Democratic administration, the debt for the North Carolina railroad, in which the State's interest was in danger of being sold, has been adjusted, the continued control of the road by the State secured, and its prosperity established, so that it must be a source of great profit instead of a public burden. The Western North Carolina railroad, which was left in a wretched condition, the Blue Ridge seeming to be an insuperable barrier to its further progress, has pierced the mountains, one branch of it put in connection with the great railroad system of the northwest, and the other rapidly approaching the extreme western border of the State and developing the many resources of counties so long cut off from the rest of the world; the Yadkin Valley railroad resuscitated and extending its iron arm across the North Carolina railroad at Greensboro toward the fertile vales of our northwestern region; and the Chester and Lenoir road, &c., &c. And more than this, they cannot forget that in place of confusion, doubt, suspicion and war, Democracy is not deprived of the ability to compete successfully with cheaper foreign labor, and that some regard must be had for the capital invested in industries which have relied on legislation for successful continuance. The very existence of a tariff negatives the idea of absolute free-trade, and the intent of the platform is to approximate that ideal standard for the good of the many, as nearly as may be, without injury to our home industries and those who make an honest living (and not great fortunes) out of them.

A similar contrast can be observed in the Republican and Democratic State platforms, and a careful study of them is recommended to all who have the opportunity. We only call attention to the fact that our demands the immediate and unconditional abolition of the odious internal revenue system, and admits the necessity of retaining the present, or adopting another similar system of county government, for the protection of the white people of our eastern counties. The contrast between the candidates of the two parties for the offices of President and Vice-President is not less striking. While the country, alarmed by the frauds and corruptions in almost every department of the national administration was demanding reform and tired of long continued strife, was sighing for peace and fraternal feeling between the different sections, the Republican party, as if in defiance, offers for the suffrages of the American people James G. Blaine, convicted by public opinion of corruption in high places, himself the champion of the corrupt elements of his party and the embodiment of machine methods in politics; and John A. Logan, whose hatred of the South is his chief ground of support by his party. Against such men the Democrats offer Grover Cleveland, the tried reformer in the government successively of a great city and State, selected because he has given evidence that he has the ability and the courage to reform the existing abuses in the government of the Union, and Thos. A. Hendricks, an experienced statesman, upon whose honor there has never been a breath of suspicion, and the very man from whom the office, now about to be pressed upon him, was stolen by the great national crime of 1876.

Between the two tickets many of the great and most influential Republican journals of the North, impelled by a high sense of public duty and sprung party domination, have not hesitated to choose Cleveland and Hendricks. That these potent leaders of public opinion have a large following of honest Republican voters is certain. One of these journals, perhaps the ablest of them, puts the issue in these words: "Shall the next President be a man who has weakly yielded to temptation, or a man who has unwaveringly clung to the right against powerful enticements to do wrong? A man who begs pecuniary rewards of those his official action has enriched, or one who defies corrupt dictation and seeks only by just course to deserve the approval of right thinking men? A candidate attacked, impeached, tainted and besmirched all over, or a candidate beyond reproach? A grover Cleveland, whom honest men respect, or a James G. Blaine whom rogues love?"

We will not discuss the State ticket further than to say, that at no time in its history has the Democratic party in North Carolina offered for the votes of the people a ticket representing greater ability, integrity and energy than that headed by the name of Hon. Alfred M. Scales, or one that was more favorably received by the people in all parts of the State; while Dr. York,

By the use of Buckingham's Dye, the whiskers may be easily made a permanent, natural brown, or black, as desired.

Lt. Greely and Party Found.
The following telegram was received from Commander Schley: ST. JOHN'S, 9 A. M., July 17.
Hon. W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

It is fitting that, before the beginning of a campaign, those who, in a sense, are entrusted with its direction, should utter some words of cheer and counsel to those who are to fight the battles. While much depends on the skill of the leaders in these battles, the result, victory or defeat, is dependent at last on the courage and faithfulness of the rank and file. To them, therefore, we would address a few words.

There are in this State and in the United States but two parties. Of the few disappointed or misguided men who have deserted from the Democratic ranks, after skirmishing awhile under the name of Liberal against the cause to which they had pledged their allegiance, some have become fully incorporated in the ranks of the enemy, while others have returned and are again in line with their old column. These two parties have recently held their State and National conventions, adopted their platforms and selected their candidates.

The contrast between the two national platforms is striking. The Republican is in the main but a repetition of those of past campaigns, dealing in vague generalities and offers no warrant that the corrupt practices which have disgraced past administrations are not to be continued. Worse than that, it contains a deliberate attempt to revive the issue of city rights after good men every where were led to believe that this question had been settled, as well as by enlightened public opinion, as by a decision of the highest court of the land. Thus to throw a firebrand between the two races at the South now friendly and yearly becoming more so, is a desperate venture or a political crime. The National Democratic platform after arraigning the party in power for its frauds and shortcomings, pledges those who are to fight the battles of the campaign upon it, "to purify the administration from corruption, to restore economy, to revive respect for law, and to reduce taxation to the lowest limit it is consistent with a due regard to the preservation of the faith of the nation," and demands that in laying the tariff, it should be made to bear heaviest on articles of luxury but misused the money so that no schools were taught, while now, with less burdensome taxation, Democrats are expending over half a million of money annually in teaching the children of both races under a system of public instruction which is admitted to be equal to the best in the land. They cannot forget that notwithstanding the immense appropriations made for railroad purposes all our railroads languished under Republican control. Under Democratic administration, the debt for the North Carolina railroad, in which the State's interest was in danger of being sold, has been adjusted, the continued control of the road by the State secured, and its prosperity established, so that it must be a source of great profit instead of a public burden. The Western North Carolina railroad, which was left in a wretched condition, the Blue Ridge seeming to be an insuperable barrier to its further progress, has pierced the mountains, one branch of it put in connection with the great railroad system of the northwest, and the other rapidly approaching the extreme western border of the State and developing the many resources of counties so long cut off from the rest of the world; the Yadkin Valley railroad resuscitated and extending its iron arm across the North Carolina railroad at Greensboro toward the fertile vales of our northwestern region; and the Chester and Lenoir road, &c., &c. And more than this, they cannot forget that in place of confusion, doubt, suspicion and war, Democracy is not deprived of the ability to compete successfully with cheaper foreign labor, and that some regard must be had for the capital invested in industries which have relied on legislation for successful continuance. The very existence of a tariff negatives the idea of absolute free-trade, and the intent of the platform is to approximate that ideal standard for the good of the many, as nearly as may be, without injury to our home industries and those who make an honest living (and not great fortunes) out of them.

A similar contrast can be observed in the Republican and Democratic State platforms, and a careful study of them is recommended to all who have the opportunity. We only call attention to the fact that our demands the immediate and unconditional abolition of the odious internal revenue system, and admits the necessity of retaining the present, or adopting another similar system of county government, for the protection of the white people of our eastern counties. The contrast between the candidates of the two parties for the offices of President and Vice-President is not less striking. While the country, alarmed by the frauds and corruptions in almost every department of the national administration was demanding reform and tired of long continued strife, was sighing for peace and fraternal feeling between the different sections, the Republican party, as if in defiance, offers for the suffrages of the American people James G. Blaine, convicted by public opinion of corruption in high places, himself the champion of the corrupt elements of his party and the embodiment of machine methods in politics; and John A. Logan, whose hatred of the South is his chief ground of support by his party. Against such men the Democrats offer Grover Cleveland, the tried reformer in the government successively of a great city and State, selected because he has given evidence that he has the ability and the courage to reform the existing abuses in the government of the Union, and Thos. A. Hendricks, an experienced statesman, upon whose honor there has never been a breath of suspicion, and the very man from whom the office, now about to be pressed upon him, was stolen by the great national crime of 1876.

Between the two tickets many of the great and most influential Republican journals of the North, impelled by a high sense of public duty and sprung party domination, have not hesitated to choose Cleveland and Hendricks. That these potent leaders of public opinion have a large following of honest Republican voters is certain. One of these journals, perhaps the ablest of them, puts the issue in these words: "Shall the next President be a man who has weakly yielded to temptation, or a man who has unwaveringly clung to the right against powerful enticements to do wrong? A man who begs pecuniary rewards of those his official action has enriched, or one who defies corrupt dictation and seeks only by just course to deserve the approval of right thinking men? A candidate attacked, impeached, tainted and besmirched all over, or a candidate beyond reproach? A grover Cleveland, whom honest men respect, or a James G. Blaine whom rogues love?"

We will not discuss the State ticket further than to say, that at no time in its history has the Democratic party in North Carolina offered for the votes of the people a ticket representing greater ability, integrity and energy than that headed by the name of Hon. Alfred M. Scales, or one that was more favorably received by the people in all parts of the State; while Dr. York,

By the use of Buckingham's Dye, the whiskers may be easily made a permanent, natural brown, or black, as desired.

[Signed.] W. S. SCHLEY, Commander.

For the Committee. R. H. BATTLE, Chairman.

Five horse thieves (names unknown) were hanged near Rocky Point, on the Missouri river, Monday, by a band of cowboys, for the purpose of clearing out thieves infesting that section. Thirty-two stolen horses were recovered. This makes thirteen horse thieves hanged and shot in the Judith and Mussel Shell section within the past three weeks.

—By the use of Buckingham's Dye, the whiskers may be easily made a permanent, natural brown, or black, as desired.

The Greely Expedition.
In June, 1881, preparations having been made for the United States colony twenty-two officers and enlisted men, under the command of Lieutenant Greely, of the Fifth Cavalry, were assigned to duty as force to Lady Franklin Bay. Octave Prévost, M. D., was taken on board at Disco, Greenland, to fill the position of acting assistant surgeon with the expeditionary force. In addition Jans Edward, an Esquimaux, and Frederick Thorley Christiaansen, a half-breed, both of whom were engaged at Proven, accompanied the expedition. The colony thus consisted of twenty-five men in all.

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland; all well. They were separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p. m., June 22d, five miles off Cape Sabine, in Smith's sound, the Thetis and Bear rescued alive Lieutenant W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy:

The People's Press.

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1884.

LOCAL ITEMS.

AN EPITOME OF THE WEEK'S DOINGS.

Departure and arrival of Trains on the Salem Branch—N. W. N. C. R. R.
No. 9 Leaves Salem, 6.00 a. m.
10 Arrives " 11.38 a. m.
11 Leaves " 12.20 p. m.
12 Arrives " 12.20 p. m.

—The Promenade Concert on last Friday night was a lively affair. The Riflemen were on, and the financial success was satisfactory.

—Vigorous health is man's finest estate. If weak and nervous, send for circular and free trial package of Pastilles—a radical cure.

Harris Remedy Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. James A. Blum urges the citizens of the two towns and vicinity to move in the matter of aiding him in making a good display at the County and State Exposition. No time should be lost.

—A list of Letters remaining in the Post Office at Salem, N. C., for the week ending July 19th, 1884:

Mrs. Emily Berry, Miss E. J. Clift, Miss Amanda Fisher, Miss Fries, S. T. Flynn, Mrs. Sophronia Kimmel, Mrs. Alexander Mock, Miss Lilla Phillips, Mrs. Alpha M. Sides, J. W. Smith, R. S. Snider and Emory Thomas.

To obtain any of these letters the applicant must call for addressed letters. If not called for within one month they will be sent to the dead letter office.

J. BLICKENDERFER, P. M.

WAUGHTON, N. C., July 19th, 1884.

Messrs. Editors: The first and second nines of the Waughton Base Ball Club played a match game on Saturday last.

The players of the second nine are as follows: Bobbie Nissen, Captain; Henry Laugour, Catch; George Newsom, Pitch; B. S. Nissen, First Base; Martin Vance, Second Base; Daniel Sanders, Third Base; Elmer Tucker, Short Stop; Joseph Tucker, Right Field; Jacob Newsom, Centre Field; Erastus Light, Left Field; Dr. R. B. Collier, Umpire; George L. Stoddard, Scorer.

The first nine were ahead the first few innings, but the second nine taking new energy, soon were ahead. Martin Vance led off with a fine fly bat.

What attracted our attention most was the fine catching off the bat of Henry Laugour, the fine curve pitching of George Newsom, the splendid short stopping of Elmer Tucker, the excellent catching on first base of Bobbie Nissen, and the most magnificent fly catch of Jake Newsom in centre field.

Daniel Sanders finished with a fine catch on third base.

The result of the score stood thus: the first nine ten tallies, the second nine eleven tallies.

E. D. V.

—Prevent serious sickness by taking occasionally one of Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, a wonderful appetizer, an absolute preventive and cure of Biliousness, pleasant to take, sugar-coated. Ask your druggist for them and take no other—15 Cents.

CORRESPONDENCE.

LETTERS FROM OUR FRIENDS.
KERNERSVILLE LETTER.

Messrs. Editors: Since my last communication to the Press, I made a visit to our mission church at the mountains and found a good Sunday School in operation. But such a time as I had getting there, O my! for while I left Kernesville in the dust, as soon as I passed Winston, I found mud, and the farther I went the deeper it became, in fact for 4 weeks there has been almost incessant rains and as a consequence the crops are considerable in the grass, and the wheat was still on shocks in the field, and sprouting at that.

When I reached Mt. Airy my horse and conveyance were broken down, I stopped for the night at the hotel, kept by Mrs. Banner, and found her good, plenty to eat, clean beds and moderate prices. Next morning the young man that looks after things there, turned out and borrowed a saddle and saddle pockets for my use, and sent me on my way horseback. I reached my preaching place in good time, but unfortunately the appointment I went was just one week and 3 days coming sixty miles, so that the people did not know it in general. If I start a letter from Kernesville on Thursday night on the 11 o'clock train it will reach Lone Cedar, P. O., by way of Mt. Airy, on Saturday noon following; but instead of that some careless post-master sends it round by way of Danville, and up to the top of the mountains and then back again, so that it was just one week and three days making the trip and this has been the case every time since last fall.

After getting there, I learned that Jesse Hiatt had died since my last visit, he had dropsy. Any one that has ever been acquainted with the Mission church, will remember Mr. Hiatt, as he was a peculiar character, and few will be more missed then he; he was 48 years old. On Monday I visited Mr. Samuel Vaughn who once lived in Salem, and for several years ran the Mission farm at Bethel, during a part of Rev. Jacob F. Sowers administration there, and he is quite blind now.

On Monday evening I came back to Mt. Airy, and found that Mr. Schaub had repaired my conveyance, so I could go on next morning. I noticed that the belfry of the Presbyterian church was wreck and was told the lightning struck it on Sunday, 22nd, and that a cow and a horse were killed in town at the same time; and near Green Hill Factory, 8 miles from here, a lady was killed by lightning at the same time. Some years ago, the Methodist church there was served the same way.

On my way up the other day I saw quite a row of tents near Mr. Dalton's, and I could not think what meant; but as he is a man of various enterprises I thought perhaps he had gotten up a camp meeting for his especial benefit; but on inquiry found the tents belonged to the railroad men then engaged in locating the road in the neighborhood.

The Mt. Airy people seemed to be quite jubilant at the thought of getting the road up there, and the prospect has its effects already. Five miles west from town, on Stewart's creek, is used to be called Robert's mill. Once in the creek when it was up, and if I would not have had an unusually tall horse, I would not be writing this letter now. Years ago that property sold for twenty-five hundred dollars, and later it sold for three thousand, and a few weeks ago it again changed hands and the last owner got nine thousand dollars in cash and they say the prospect of the railroad did it.

The back came up to Mt. Airy on Saturday evening, an old acquaintance, Mr. Bowles from Five Forks, was driving and he had as passenger a Mr. Turner, from Macon, Georgia, who made a contract for all the tobacco Mr. Dodson can manufacture till January next. He seemed pleased with our country and more especially with Mrs. Banner's boiled ham, which he declared was the best ham he had ever eaten. He started back on Monday morning. This time the driver of the buck Mr. Stuart, another acquaintance, who owns a good farm on the head waters of Crooked Run, and an old subscriber to the Press. At one place where I staid over night I noticed a little girl kept having around me as if she wanted to say something, and at last the mother said to her "why don't you tell him," and said to me, she wants to tell you something; and finally she said she wanted me to write letters for the Press that would take her a whole day to read them over. The mother then said she claimed that as her privilege to read them for her especial benefit, and I confess I feel proud of the compliment.

Coming home, I turned aside from the main road and stopped with my friend, Mr. Frank Butner, at Stony Ridge, and had to remain over the next day, as I was taken sick in the night; however, if one must be sick; I don't know where I would have found a better place, and this kind family did all they could for my comfort, during my stay with them. From here I came to Mr. Theodore Hines, near Old Town, where I saw Mr. James Butner's steam thrasher in operation, and it seemed to be a decided improvement over horse-power, and on Friday at one o'clock I was home again.

On Sunday, Dr. R. D. Butner preached in Kernesville, and the church was well filled, his wife and daughter were with him. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kerner; Mr. Joseph Stockton and lady also came out to his brother's; Mrs. C. Y. Watson and her mother, Mrs. Penn Henly, have spent some days among their relations here. Mrs. Dr. E. Kerner has been quite unwell for the last few days, and Mr. Henry Shore and family have been here to see her.

From the last Press I see Rev. Wm. H. Vogler, from Staten Island, N. Y., is visiting his mother in Salem. I have invited him to preach in Kernesville, on the 4th Sunday this month, but have had no answer from him yet. Rev. T. M. Rights preached the Commencement sermon at the Male Seminary in the Cherokee Nation.

To-day July 18th, our town had quite an excitement in the killing of a supposed mad dog; he was a kind of estray and had been at Dr. E. Kerner, and for the last two days seemed to be unusually surly, fighting every dog that came in his way, and this morning he made an onslaught on Mr. George Duggins, and it was with difficulty that he got rid of him without being bitten; he then retreated under Dr. Kerner's barn and after so long a time forced him out when the Dr. made a lucky shot and killed him. The officer is now on his rounds notifying every one that owns a dog to put him in confinement as he was seen fighting several before he was killed, besides others perhaps that nobody knows. We are having a fine rain to day and it will about make early corn.

After getting there, I learned that Jesse Hiatt had died since my last visit, he had dropsy. Any one that has ever been acquainted with the Mission church, will remember Mr. Hiatt, as he was a peculiar character, and few will be more missed

THE CHOLERA.

The Cholera is on the increase in Europe. It is depopulating the resorts of tourists and closing up of hotels at the sea-side and other places of resort.

President Arthur has issued a proclamation warning State officials of the danger from cholera, and advising precautionary measures to be adopted. He says: "I hereby call upon all persons who under the existing systems in the several States, are intrusted with the execution of quarantine regulations to be diligent and on the alert in order to prevent the introduction of the pestilence which we all regret to learn, has made its appearance in some of the countries of Europe, between which and the parts of the United States intercourse is direct and frequent.

I further advise that the cities and towns of the United States, whether on the coast or on lines of inferior communication, by sound sanitary regulations and the production of cleanliness, be prepared to resist the power of the disease and to mitigate its severity."

DIED.

We regret to record the death of Mrs. MATTIE E. VOIGLER, consort of George E. Vogler, of this place, on Friday last, aged 34 years, leaving a husband and four children to mourn her loss. The numerous relatives and friends of the family deeply sympathize with the bereaved ones.

At Kissimmee, Fla., on the 11th inst., Mrs. P. D. HEADLEY, Mrs. Alice, was a daughter of Mrs. E. Kerner, of this place. Twice within a few months has this venerable mother been called upon to mourn the loss of her children. One an only son, and the other a loved daughter. She leaves a husband and 8 children to mourn her loss.

Miss O. A. PRECHTER, writing from Elizabethtown, Miss., died on Friday last, aged about two-thirds of her hair gone. It thinned very rapidly, and is now almost bald. The hair is very brittle, and falls out easily. It is a shade darker than the hair of the rest of the body.

As a result of this hair loss, the skin of the scalp is exposed, and the hair is easily pulled out.

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR.

It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value.

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, MASS.

Sold by all Druggists.

SALEM MARKETS.

Wheat, $90 to $100
Corn, per bushel, 80 to 90
Oats, 40 to 50
Barley, per bushel, 60 to 70
Peas, per hundred, 22 to 25
Peas, (col'd), per bushel, 00 to 00
Pens, white, 100 to 00
Beans, (white), 150 to 00
Onion Sets, per bushel, 00 to 00
Pork, 08 to 10
Country Meat, (hog round), 00 to 00
Hams, 00 to 00
Green Peas, per bushel, 00 to 00
Eggs, 10 to 12
Tallow, per pound, 15 to 20
Tallow, per pound, 00 to 05
Beeswax, 00 to 05
Flax Seed, per bushel, 90 to 00
Potatoes, Irish, per bushel, 70 to 90
Cabbage, per pound, 75 to 80
Chickens, 20 to 25
Hay, per hundred, 50 to 60
Fodder, per hundred bushels, 00 to 00
Shucks, per hundred bushels, 00 to 00

Winston-Salem Market, NEW.

Lugs Common Red, 4 to 6 to 6 to 6
" Bright, 6 to 7 to 7 to 7
" Fine, 15 to 20 to 20
Fillers Common, 4 to 6 to 6 to 6
" Fine, 8 to 12 to 12 to 12
Wrappers Common, 15 to 20 to 20
" Good, 25 to 40 to 40
" Fine, 50 to 75 to 75
" Fancy, 00 to 00 to 00

DRIED FRUIT MARKET.

Cherries pitted, 12 cents
Damson, Plums, 8 cents
Whortberries, 7 cents
Berries, 6 cents
Quarter Apples, 4 cents
Sliced Apples, bright, 4 cents
Sliced Apples, bright, fancy, 5 to 8 cents
Dark Peeled Peaches, Bright, " 10 cents
Fancy, " 15 cents
Halves, 3 cents

DRY FRUIT MARKET.

Cherries pitted, 12 cents
Damson, Plums, 8 cents
Whortberries, 7 cents
Berries, 6 cents
Quarter Apples, 4 cents
Sliced Apples, bright, 4 cents
Sliced Apples, bright, fancy, 5 to 8 cents
Dark Peeled Peaches, Bright, " 10 cents
Fancy, " 15 cents
Halves, 3 cents

TEACHER WANTED.

I WISH to employ a lady to take charge of a new Primary School. Any one desiring such position will please address me at HALL'S FERRY, Davie Co., N. C., giving terms, &c.

July 19. 31. C. A. HALL.

WANTED.

SHORTHAND-PAPER. Through instruction by mail, in the latest improved system. Address

FRED F. SKUSE,
Watkins, N. Y.

July 22.

BINGHAM'S

Established is the only

172 School for

South with GAS LIGHT, etc.

SHAMUS, and a first-class BATH HOUSE.

There is a thoroughly equipped TELE-

GRAPHY.

First Session begins July 20th.

For Catalogue, Maj. R. BINGHAM,

Bingham School, N. C.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

HAVING qualified as Executor of Christian Elvert, deceased, I hereby notify all persons having any claim against the deceased to present them to me legally for payment on or before the 15th day of June, 1885, or this notice will be placed in a box of recovery.

And I further notify to the deceased are notified to call on me and make payment.

June 7-8. E. A. EBERT, Executor.

LIVER, KIDNEY or STOMACH TROUBLE.

Symptoms: Impure blood, dark veins, irregular appetite, sour belching, pains in side, back and heart, yellow urine, burning when urinating, clay-colored stools, bad digestion, dead fingers, cold, ill-temper, irritability, whitish tongue, dry cough, dizzy head, with dull pain in back part, loss of memory, foggy sight. For these troubles

"HARTER'S PILLS" are a cure.

Box 30 Pills, by Dr. Harter, 6 to 12. Address, DE. SWAYNE & SON, Phila., Pa.

Sold by Druggists.

LONG LIFE RESTORER—Great English

Toilet Article. Restores growth, color, gloss and softness. Removes Dandruff. Aristocratic families of Great Britain endorse it.

Elegant, delicate, fragrant perfume.

The favorite of fashion. At Druggists for 32 1/2 id., or

